TOPIC -----------------------------------------------------------

"apropos dt" yields nine occurrences of the line "Mon Apr 23 xx:xx:xx PDT 1990".  This is a minor annoyance, but why does it happen?

DISCUSSION ------------------------------------------------------

The repeated time-stamped "Mon Apr 23 xx:xx:xx PDT 1990" lines displayed with the "apropos dt" command are caused by the /usr/lib/whatis database file. The "apropos dt" displays any line matched with the "dt" string (not case sensitive) from the /usr/lib/whatis file.  The workaround to this minor annoyance is to remove these time stamp lines from the /usr/lib/whatis file.
