TOPIC ---

This article describes the information that can be found in the Tech Info Library.

DISCUSSION --

The Tech Info Library (TIL) contains over 10,000 technical articles related to Apple products and their issues. The articles are continuously reviewed and updated with new and revised product and technical information. The TIL is the same database used by the Apple technical support teams. The TIL contains valuable information that will help you sell, support, and use Apple products.

The TIL contains specific articles that describe:

• Technical product specifications

• Product compatibility information

• How to setup and interface products

• Answers to commonly asked questions

• Clarifications and updates to manuals

• Descriptions of known problems and, in many cases, workarounds

Specific information on searching the TIL is available in the "Help: How to Search the AppleLink Tech Info Library" article or by pressing the "Library Help" button in the Tech Info Library window of AppleLink.

If you have comments about any of the Tech Info Library articles, please send a memo to the AppleLink address TECH.DB.
