Business BASIC III: RENUMBER -- Unreferenced Lines

Business BASIC's RENUMBER program isn't able to properly renumber the sample program:

```
10 GOTO 20
```

Though it's obvious that GOTO 20 references a line that doesn't exist, it won't always be obvious in a large program. One way to check that there are no "phantom" line numbers is to use the XREF function in the RENUMBER program before you actually renumber your program.
