TOPIC ---

I have a DOS clone with a DEC DEPCA-AA Ethernet card. Does AppleShare PC support this card, or will I have to get a different card.

DISCUSSION --

The DEC DEPCA-AA Ethernet card is not inherently supported by AppleShare PC. The list of supported Ethernet cards in the Technical Info library states that the 3Com EtherLink II and its MicroChannel-equivalent card are the only supported Ethernet cards.

However, since "Farallon" took over both AppleShare PC as well as the LocalTalk PC Card from Apple in April 1991, you should contact them for the most current information since they have updated the software to support more DOS programs as well as other hardware.
