TOPIC -----

Is there any way to keep the folders and/or documents contained on an AppleShare File Server in a set order when viewed by icon? I have a 160MB File Server that has about 40 folders in it. Users are complaining that every time they connect to the server, they can't find a folder where they put it last.

DISCUSSION -----

The actual views that an individual server user sees can be modified by the user but they will revert to the layout that the server administrator set up.

If the users can agree on a set organization of the folders, boot the server with a diskette and rearrange the folders then restart the server.

This is the only way for the folders to stay arranged in such a way as each user wants.
