Note: AppleShare 4.2.1 is compatible with Open Transport on PCI-based Power Macintosh 7200, 7500, 8500, and 9500 series computers. Apple has not certified AppleShare 4.2.1 and Open transport on NuBus based Power Macintosh computers and Workgroup servers.

Note: There is a special version of AppleShare 4.0.2 for Power Macintosh computers. AppleShare 4.0.2 for Power Macintosh is no longer sold separately.

Note: AppleShare 4.0.1 supports all 68040-based Macintosh computers except the Macintosh Centris/Quadra 660AV and Quadra 840AV due to incompatibility. AppleShare is not recommended or supported when using a Power Macintosh Upgrade Card. There is no performance benefit with the Upgrade Card.

Note: From a functionality standpoint, AppleShare 4.0.1 is identical to the product "AppleShare 4.0.2 for 68040-based Macintosh Computers." Therefore, there is no need to upgrade AppleShare 4.0.1 to AppleShare 4.0.2. The only differences between these versions are the version number itself and the fact that AppleShare 4.0.2 is available in a complete retail package, while AppleShare 4.0.1 is available as a tune-up only and must be installed over an existing copy of AppleShare 4.0.

Note: The Workgroup Server 95 uses only AppleShare Pro (v 1.0 or 1.1). None of the other versions of AppleShare (shown in this article) is supported on the Workgroup Server 95. AppleShare Pro only works with the specific version of System Software (A/UX) it ships with.

Note: The AppleShare 4.0 column is left here for information purposes, users are recommended to upgrade to at least AppleShare 4.0.1.
