TOPIC -----

When loading AppleShare PC to an IBM PC, a customer is getting this error message: "needs version 3.1 or later of DOS". The customer tried DOS versions 4.0 and 5.0 and got the same message.

DISCUSSION -----

The problem is associated with the REDIR subdirectory file located in the AppleShare PC DIR. In all probability, your customer is using an AppleShare PC version older than 2.X, which works effectively only with DOS versions through the 3.X series. Your customer needs to upgrade to the more current Farallon version of the AppleShare PC software.

This error message also has been reported by customers when they haven't properly followed the directions for loading files for DOS 5.0. The customer should pay close attention to the instructions regarding "expanding" (see the DOS 5.0 User's Manual, page 28).
