Article Created: 24 June 1994

Article Reviewed/Updated: 13 May 1996

TOPIC -----

This article is the announcement of patch release "a" for Macintosh Application Environment (MAE) V1.0.

DISCUSSION -----

As a result of your input and questions, we have created and are distributing patch release "a" for MAE V1.0. This patch release will alleviate several problems that you have identified in your communications to us.

The patch can be obtained over the internet from the /pub/mae/patches directory on the server ftp.support.apple.com. There is a read-me file in that location with complete details on what is contained in the patch release as well as how to download and install the patch. In addition, please be aware that the patch is covered by a license agreement. You MUST read and agree to the license agreement before downloading and/or using the patch software. Note: This patch cannot be used with the MAE V1.0 trial.

Our intention is to release patches on an as-needed basis. Each patch release will contain the previous patches as well as the new ones. If you have any questions and are a licensed MAE user call 1-800-SOS-APPL. Otherwise, send mail to mae-users@medraut.apple.com.
