Gupta SQLbase and Macintosh Client Access (4/93)

Article Created: 6 April 1993

TOPIC -----

Is there a way to permit Macintosh clients using an application and/or DAL Server to access and use a database on SQLbase, from Gupta running as NLM on Novell Netware 3.11?

DISCUSSION -----

Novell told us that their DAL for Netware SQL only supports their own Btrieve database, and no other SQL databases running on their Netware server.

Gupta told us that there is no current Macintosh client access to SQLbase. There is some discussion about Macintosh clients but they don't have any plans as yet.
