HyperCard Sound and After Dark Screen Saver (5/93)

Article Created: 24 June 1991

Article Reviewed/Updated: 27 May 1993

TOPIC -----

This article describes two small anomalies involving HyperCard and After Dark.

DISCUSSION -----

The screen saver After Dark v. 2.0, runs silently if HyperCard is the application that's open when After Dark kicks in. This is because HyperCard takes control over sound while it is running.

After Dark, v.2.0u (for System 7) may also cause the cursor to change to After Dark's "never sleep" icon. This has been reported to Berkeley Systems.
