Sound File, CDev: Shouldn't Be Opened Together (5/93)

Article Created: 26 May 1993

TOPIC -----

When I perform the following steps, my Macintosh no longer responds.
Why is this?

- 1) Put a sound file into the Control Panels folder.
- 2) Select the sound file and a Control Panel.
- 3) Open both files at the same time (CMD-O, or double click)

DISCUSSION -----

This is a known reproducible situation. It isn't clear why these steps are required for operation of the Macintosh. The recommendation is to NOT perform these steps.

To prevent this from happening inadvertently, place any sounds that you need in the Control Panels folder inside another folder. Items in different folders can't be selected and opened together.
