AppleVision 1710AV Display: Control Modules on a PowerBook 8/95

Article Created: 11 August 1995

TOPIC -----

How do I get the new control strip modules that come with the ApppeVision 1710AV display onto a PowerBook?

Do the control strip modules only work with the 1710AV display?

DISCUSSION -----

You can run the installer from the original AppleVision 1710AV Display disks to install the Monitor BitDepth and Monitor Resolution Control Strip modules on your PowerBook.

Alternatively, you can drag the two Control Strip modules into the Control Strip Modules folder in your System Folder. You also need to drag the Display Enabler v2.0 or later into the Extensions folder of your System Folder. You need to restart your computer for the modules to show up in the Control Strip.

These modules work with all displays including the PowerBook on-board display.
