System 7.5: Progress Bar and Welcome To Macintosh Screen (3/95)

Article Created: 22 March 1995

TOPIC -----

I have noticed that in System 7.5, when I invoke the Extensions Manager during startup, only the progress bar shows up and not the complete Welcome to Macintosh screen. The same thing happens if I have a StartUpScreen file in my system folder.

Does this indicate a problem?

DISCUSSION -----

System 7.5 Update 1.0 resolves the problems you described. We have verified that a 32 bit color StartUpScreen on a PowerBook 540c with System 7.5 Update 1.0 has the start up process displayed as expected.

also, when you invoke Extensions Manager at startup, there is no floating progress bar when the Extensions Manager window closes and the startup process is continued.
