Mac OS 7.6: Desktop Patterns Information Read Me (1/97)

Article Created: 24 January 1997

TOPIC -----

This article is the Desktop Patterns Information ReadMe file which comes with Mac OS 7.6.

DISCUSSION -----

About the Desktop Patterns Clipping Folder

What are Desktop Patterns?

Desktop Patterns allow you to change the pattern or color of your computer's desktop. Since you are using System 7.5, you already have Desktop Patterns installed in your Control Panels folder. The files in the Desktop Pattern Clippings folder provide additional patterns. To view any of these patterns, simply double-click its icon.

How can I install these Desktop Pattern clippings into my system?

To install any of the Desktop Pattern clippings, follow these steps:

- 1) Open the Desktop Pattern Clippings folder.
- 2) Open the Desktop Patterns control panel (in the Control Panels folder inside the System Folder).
- 3) Drag the desired Desktop Pattern clipping from the Desktop Pattern Clippings folder onto the pattern currently displayed in the Desktop Patterns control panel, and release the mouse button.

The Desktop Pattern clipping that you dragged now appears in the window of the Desktop Patterns control panel. You can choose it as your desktop pattern by clicking Set Desktop Pattern.
