Macintosh Scrapbook: Copying Between Different Computers

This article last reviewed: 19 February 1991

TOPIC -----

I want to put the Scrapbook file from one Macintosh in the System folder of another Macintosh. Will this cause any problems?

DISCUSSION -----

We don't see any problems copying the Scrapbook between Macintoshes. The only time when there may be a problem is when the one computer is using a much older version of the System software. Then you will need to copy the contents of the clipboard out or update the older version of the System software.
