DiskExpress: It Can Erase Hard Disks to Military Specifications

This article last reviewed: 21 April 1988

If you need software that can erase Macintosh hard disks to military specifications (that is, writes zeros to every location, then ones to every location), a product called DiskExpress may meet your need.

DiskExpress is a disk optimizer for fragmented files and can erase unused blocks. It offers two options to erase unused blocks or the entire volume:

- erase once, writing binary zeros
- erase three times, first writing binary zeros, then binary ones, and finally binary zeros again.

DiskExpress is AppleShare compatible.
