Macintosh: Where To Get Keystroke Recording Applications

This article last reviewed: 15 June 1989

TOPIC -----

A NuBus developing VAR needs software that does keystroke recording and playback) for the debugging/QA process.

DISCUSSION -----

MacroMaker (from Apple), QuicKeys, and Tempo II provide varying levels of keystroke recording; Tempo II also records mouse movements. Tempo II is probably the best solution for your customer, based on the information provided. For more information on Tempo II and QuicKeys, search the Tech Info Library under "CE Software" and "Affinity."
