At Ease 2.0: Unmounting Hard Drive Partitions (11/93)

TOPIC -----

In using At Ease 2.0, I noticed that my hard drive partitions are being unmounted when a user logs out or quits from the Finder.

My boot volume is not partitioned, but my external drive is.

DISCUSSION -----

At Ease appears to be treating the partitions as removable media.

Apple has not been able to duplicate your symptom using standard partitioning with a third party formatting utility. If there is an option in the driver to tell it that a volume is not removable, make sure that this is selected. If this suggestion doesn't help, contact the formatting software vendor for an update to the latest version.
