TOPIC -----

The same part number (661-1732) applies to the logic board in the Quadra 605, in the LC 475, and in the Performa 475. When I install this part in a Macintosh LC 475, it thinks it's a Quadra 605. How can I change this?

DISCUSSION -----

On the logic board, find jumper J18, located near the hard drive power connector.

- If a jumper block is installed, the system thinks it's a Quadra 605.
- If the block is removed, the system thinks it's an LC 475.
- In the case of the Performa 475, remove the jumper and the system software will take care of the name change in the "About this Macintosh" window.
