Performa 600: Obtaining System Software

Article Created: 25 November 1992

TOPIC ---

If I use the 5.25 internal expansion bay for a larger, non-apple, internal hard disk, or purchase a large capacity external SCSI hard disk, I need to install system software on that third-party drive. Since I don't receive system software disks with the Performa 600, must I purchase the System 7.1 package?

DISCUSSION --

A Performa 600 customer doesn't need to purchase System 7.1. To install system software 7.1p on a new hard drive:

1) Perform an Apple Backup of your existing software to floppy disks.

2) Perform an Apple Restore to the new drive.

Apple Backup allows you to select either the System Folder or the entire hard drive for backing up.
