Newton Keyboard: Auto-Capitalization Disabled (12/95)

Article Created: 30 November 1995
Article Reviewed/Updated: 15 December 1995

TOPIC --

When I have the Newton Keyboard attached to my Apple MessagePad 120 with the Newton OS 2.0 installed, I have found that fields that would automatically capitalize, do not with the keyboard attached. Why?

DISCUSSION ---

This is actually the way it is supposed to work. The soft keyboard does not always reflect what the Newton keyboard types. If you press the caps lock key on the Newton keyboard, the soft keyboard does not change and the Newton keyboard types upper case letters while the soft keyboard types lower case letters. The MessagePad cannot set the state of the caps lock, or shift keys on the Newton keyboard.
