

Tech Info Library

AudioVision 14 Display: Install/Overwriting SW Tip (8/93)

Article Created: 29 July 1993

Article Reviewed/Updated: 3 August 1993

TOPIC -----

If you use the AudioVision 14 Display with other devices that include software, such as the Apple Adjustable Keyboard or third-party ADB devices, install the AudioVision software LAST.

DISCUSSION -----

Software for some other devices may overwrite your monitor software. For example, if you install software for the Apple Adjustable Keyboard after installing software for the AudioVision 14 Display, the keyboard's Sound control panel may replace the monitor's Sound control panel. The result is that you lose the AudioVision "Volumes" Sound control panel.

Also, with the Apple Adjustable Keyboard, follow these steps after you install the software:

- 1) Follow the instructions to restart
- 2) Turn off the computer and monitor
- 3) Wait 30 seconds before powering up.

If you don't follow these steps, the display won't be recognized.

Article Change History:

3 August 1993 - Added more information about installing the Apple Adjustable Keyboard.

29 July 1993 - Shortened the title

Copyright 1993, Apple Computer, Inc

Keywords: SUPT

=====

This information is from the Apple Technical Information Library.

19960215 11:05:19.00

Tech Info Library Article Number: 12716