TOPIC ---

Can I connect a Sony GDM-1901 (from Masscom) monitor to my Macintosh?

DISCUSSION --

Sony's tech support has stated that no version of the GDM-1901 will work on any Macintosh.

The GDM-1901 was an OEM product from Sony to a variety of vendors. It is now an obsolete product. When these were manufactured each vendor specified their requirements for timing to Sony; thus, each vendor's version of the GDM-1901 is specific to that vendor's computer system. To find out more about a particular vendor's version, contact Sony's monitor tech support at 408-944-4181.
