Adjustable Keyboard Driver: Installation Error (6/94)

Article Created: 8 July 1993

Article Reviewed/Updated: 22 Jun 1994

TOPIC -----

I can't install the driver software for the Apple Adjustable Keyboard on my Macintosh. The Installer gives a message saying that the software to be installed is older than the software on the currently selected system, and it will not proceed further. Is there an updated version of the Apple Adjustable Keyboard Installer?

DISCUSSION -----

The system software on your Macintosh is already properly configured to support the Apple Adjustable Keyboard.

There's no need to reinstall the Adjustable Keyboard resources unless you are reinstalling the system software on your Macintosh. If this is the case, remember to install the Adjustable Keyboard resources using the Installer.

You can double check that your Adjustable Keyboard has all of its functionality by either trying the volume buttons, or the forward delete key on the key pad.
