QMS 410 Printer: System 7 Compatibility (3/93)

Article Created: 10 March 1993

TOPIC ---

Is the QMS 410 printer compatible with System 7?

DISCUSSION --

According to QMS, version 9.4 and higher of the QMS firmware is System 7 compatible. On 3/1/93, the current version was 9.4a.

To check the firmware version, take the printer off line, press the "test" button, and put the printer back online.

Two test pages will print; the first one will have a printer ID box in the top left corner. The fourth line of this box indicates the firmware version.

If customers have firmware version 6, 7, or 8, they can call QMS for upgrade information. If customers still have level 1, they will have send their printer in to QMS for the upgrade.

QMS has modified the Apple LaserWriter driver to add various features to it, such as a new envelope selection and different size paper. This driver is available directly from QMS.

The Apple LaserWriter driver will work with the QMS 410. QMS suggests that an alias of the LaserWriter printer driver be in the extensions folder and that the original driver should be located in the root directory of the system folder.
