PageMaker 5.0: Customers Needing LW Utility 7.4.1 (11/93)

Article Created: 22 November 1993

TOPIC -----

Apple Support is getting calls from customers who have purchased PageMaker 5.0 and need the LaserWriter Utility 7.4.1. Aldus apparently has licensed LaserWriter 8.0 and has bundled it with PageMaker 5.0 but they did not license or bundle LaserWriter Utility 7.4.1.

DISCUSSION -----

Apple Product Management and Aldus came up with a solution on handling the LW 8.1.1 and LW Utility situation.

- Both LW 8.1.1 and the LW Utility are posted on Compuserve and AOL in the Aldus folders.
- LW 8.1.1 and the LW Utility 7.4.1 are being added to PageMaker 5.0. Copies of PageMaker 5.0 with LW 8.1.1 and the LW Utility 7.4.1 should be on dealer's shelves around mid-January.
- Aldus will sell a software update kit with LW 8.1.1 and LW Utility to PageMaker 5.0 owners for $9.95. This should be available by early January.
- Aldus does not expect Apple to supply PageMaker 5.0 customers with LW 8.1.1 or LW Utility. Aldus will inform their customers about the above ways of getting LW 8.1.1 and the LW Utility.
