LaserWriter Driver 6.0.2: Resource for Printing Envelopes

This article last reviewed: 10 January 1991

TOPIC -----

What are the advantages of LaserWriter driver 6.0.2 over LaserWriter driver 6.0.1?

DISCUSSION -----

LaserWriter driver 6.0.2 is included with System Software 6.0.7, in the Apple Color folder on the Printing Tools disk. The only difference between LaserWriter driver 6.0.1 and LaserWriter driver 6.0.2 is that LaserWriter driver 6.0.2 has an added resource for printing envelopes.

In Page Setup, you now have the options of either printing envelopes from the edge or from the center. This was done for the Personal LaserWriter.

Manual feed on a LaserWriter II has two paper guides which move in and out together, allowing you to print from the center. Manual feed on the Personal LaserWriter has only one paper guide, which moves from the edge out. You would, therefore, want to put the envelope all the way over to the edge. LaserWriter driver 6.0.2 gives you the option to do this.
