Arabic System: Which LaserWriter Printer Driver? (9/93)

Article Created: 1 September 1993

TOPIC -----

I bought an Arabic 7.1 system (WorldScript) and a LaserWriter Select 310. Does this system require the Arabic version of the LaserWriter Select 310 printer drivers or will the UK or international printer drivers work?

Are localized printer drivers required to match the localized versions of system software?

DISCUSSION -----

The Arabic version of the LaserWriter Select 310 print driver is not a requirement for using the printer with Arabic System 7.1. We are not sure about "compatibility" with the UK version of the print driver, however, the international Z-version will work just fine with the Arabic system.

Essentially, the localized print drivers such as the Arabic version contain localized strings (Page Setup and Print dialog boxes with Arabic instead of English words), installer scripts, and paper size selections available in the respective country. The Z-version has English strings for the user interface, though contains the region-specific paper size selections, as well as modified installer scripts to accommodate the various script systems.
