LaserWriter: Courier 9 Printing Problem

This article last reviewed: 18 January 1988

LaserWriter users may experience a problem with printing MacWrite text or Microsoft Word text in the 9-point Courier font: when one of the words in the text is italic, the printed text following the italicized word is printed in bold.

This problem occurs only with the Courier font in 9-point size, and seems to occur in the LaserWriter Prep file. PageMaker, which uses its own LaserWriter Prep file -- unlike MacWrite or Word -- prints the text properly.
